BIG IDEAS/COMMON THREADS
Knowledge of health and physical education concepts and skills empowers students to assume lifelong responsibility to develop physical, social, and emotional wellness.

ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS
Substance abuse and addictions result in physical and emotional changes in the body. These addictions require professional intervention.

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS
PRIMARY: What is the difference between a physical and psychological addiction?
SECONDARY: What are the external and internal pressures common in adolescence, and what is the best way to cope with them?
What resources are available to help a person who may be addicted to drugs and/or alcohol?
What can be done to build self-esteem?
MODULE ASSESSMENT
Students will engage in role playing scenarios where they practice dealing with peer pressure and saying, “No.” Included in the scenarios will be the students’ knowledge of physical and psychological addictions, as well as the positive effects of living drug and alcohol free.

Define physical and psychological addictions, and describe the effects of addiction to various behaviors and substances. Recognize the need for help with drug and alcohol addiction, and identify the appropriate resources to get that help. Describe what can be done to build self-esteem.

LESSON OBJECTIVES
Students will be able to...
- Define physical addiction.
- Define psychological addiction
- State the value and positive benefits of a drug free lifestyle.
- Identify external and internal pressures that are common in adolescence.
- Examine why a person in trouble often finds it difficult to get help.
- Identify appropriate resources for help with drug and/or alcohol addiction.
- Describe ways to build self-esteem.
- Demonstrate self-respect by setting goals to overcome areas of weakness.

MODULE SKILLS
Students will be able to...
- Identify the difference between physical and psychological addictions when given certain scenarios.
- List the benefits of living drug and alcohol free.
- Role play scenarios where external and internal pressures are placed on adolescence, and ways to appropriate ways to cope with these pressures.
- Use the internet to research appropriate resources to help a person suffering from addiction.
- List the appropriate resources to help a person suffering from addiction.
- Role play scenarios in which students help a peer who is struggling with drug and/or alcohol addiction by using appropriate resources.
- Identify personal strengths, weaknesses, and assets as a way to help build
- Develop expertise through research about a problem and make a claim to support a solution
- Work as a contributing member of a team to achieve specific outcomes
- Show respect for divergent points of view by acknowledging them
- Recognize how digital media impacts a person’s perspective
- Show the self-discipline to do your best, reach a goal or perform an assigned task with good work quality
- Apply technology to enhance meaning, communication and productivity

BIG IDEAS/COMMON THREADS
Knowledge of health and physical education concepts and skills empowers students to assume lifelong responsibility to develop physical, social, and emotional wellness.

ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS
Empathetic students recognize and accept differences among people and act accordingly and behave in a healthy and respectful manner.

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS
PRIMARY: Why is it important to be accepting of others’ differences?
SECONDARY: How can families change over time?
What types of relationships can one be involved in?
What can you do when you witness a classmate/friend being treated in an unfair manner?
MODULE ASSESSMENT
Meet in small cooperative groups and share their family dynamics. Students will then write an essay comparing and contrasting their family with a classmate’s family.

LESSON OBJECTIVES
Students will be able to…
- Determine the different kinds of families that can exist.
- List qualities present in healthy friendships.
- Respect and recognize differences among people.
- Recognize intolerance in themselves and others.
- Identify disrespectful behavior within groups.

MODULE SKILLS
Students will be able to...
- Describe what constitutes a family.
- Write and identify their own family dynamics and if they follow the norm established by society.
- List different types of unacceptable behaviors that are present in groups.
- Role play different situations where conflict is present and the appropriate response.
- Read books/stories that reflect positive conflict resolution.
- Discuss ways in which each child can play an active role when witnessing behavior that constitutes bullying.
- After listing qualities present in healthy relationships, write an essay describing one in their own lives.
- Develop expertise through research about a problem and make a claim to support a solution
- Work as a contributing member of a team to achieve specific outcomes
- Show respect for divergent points of view by acknowledging them
- Recognize how digital media impacts a person’s perspective
- Show the self-discipline to do your best, reach a goal or perform an assigned task with good work quality
- Apply technology to enhance meaning, communication and productivity

BIG IDEAS/COMMON THREADS
Knowledge of health and physical education concepts and skills empowers students to assume lifelong responsibility to develop physical, social, and emotional wellness.

ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS
Understand the benefits of appropriate exercise. Understand the causes of common injuries in exercise, and the negative effects of performance enhancing drugs.

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS
PRIMARY: What are the benefits of exercise?
SECONDARY: Why are good exercise habits important to a person, especially as they get older? How often should you exercise? What exercises help to strengthen what parts of the human body? What are common injuries related to exercise, and what can a person do to avoid them? What are the negative effects of steroids on the human body?

MODULE ASSESSMENT
Using a computer program such as Word, Excel, etc. to create a Fitness brochure including various exercise programs, including the various benefits exercise and nutrition has over time.
Calculate Body Mass Index using a BMI device.
For a day, track the calories taken in throughout the day, and then the calories burned during exercise, and find the difference between the two.
Develop a fitness plan to strengthen your entire body.

LESSON OBJECTIVES
Students will be able to…
- List the benefits of exercise.
- List various exercises and describe the body parts they will strengthen.
- Create an exercise plan that will strengthen all parts of the human body.
- Demonstrate the importance of exercising properly to avoid injury.
- Predict the consequences of improper exercise.
- List the negative effects that steroids have on the human body.
- Practice refusal skills.

MODULE SKILLS
Students will be able to…
- List at least seven benefits of exercise which include both physical and mental benefits.
- Use the internet to research different exercises, and the areas of fitness that those exercises will improve. (21st Century skill)
- List exercises that will help strengthen; cardiovascular fitness, flexibility, upper body strength and endurance, lower body strength and endurance, core strength and endurance.
- Create an exercise plan that will strengthen all parts of the human body.
- Input this exercise plan into some type of spreadsheet, displaying the type of exercise, frequency, and area of improvement.*
- List the precautions and behaviors a person should take before, during, and after exercising to help avoid injury.
- Demonstrate how to perform certain exercises safely in order to avoid injury.
- Role play scenarios in which students refuse steroids because they understand the negative effects they have on the human body.
- Develop expertise through research about a problem and make a claim to support a solution
- Work as a contributing member of a team to achieve specific outcomes
- Show respect for divergent points of view by acknowledging them

ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS
Recognize the ability of the human body to reproduce. Students will demonstrate an understanding of the preventative measures in controlling the spread of disease.

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS
PRIMARY: What are the physical changes that occur during puberty?
SECONDARY: What are the social changes that occur during puberty?
What are the emotional changes that occur during puberty?
What are the stages of growth from fertilization to birth?
How can we prevent the spread of communicable diseases?

MODULE ASSESSMENT
Students will list questions during this unit that was answered through the lessons and discussions, as well as any other questions they may have.
Describe the physical, social, and emotional changes that occur during puberty.

LESSON OBJECTIVES
Students will be able to...
- Understand the process the body goes through during puberty.
- Compare and contrast the physical changes of each gender during puberty.
- Identify that after puberty, an adolescent is physically able to reproduce.
- Understand that because a person is physically able to have children does not mean they are emotionally mature enough to reproduce.
- Identify communicable diseases.
- Understand ways to prevent contracting and/or spreading certain communicable diseases.

MODULE SKILLS
Students will be able to...
- List the changes the male and female body goes through during puberty.
- Describe the ways the human body is able to reproduce.
- Discuss the stages that occur during pregnancy.
- Discuss what makes people emotionally mature enough to reproduce, and make responsible decisions to protect themselves from the spread of diseases.

Food labels provide some important nutritional facts about the food you eat. Allergies can result from physical reactions to food or the environment.

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS
PRIMARY: Why is it important to know if you have any allergies?
SECONDARY: Why is it important to be aware of food labels?

MODULE ASSESSMENT
Create a daily menu for a restaurant that includes foods from every area of the guide, My Plate. The daily menu should accommodate and include warnings for foods that could trigger a food allergy. Students should include the cost of the various meals listed on their menu, as well as a total price for their meals for the day.
Define allergy, asthma, and anaphylactic reactions to foods.
Analyze food labels and identify how they relate to the guide My Plate.

LESSON OBJECTIVES
Students will be able to…
- Determine if they are allergic to any foods.
- Develop an understanding of what to do if they or a classmate has an allergic reaction.
- Respect each other’s health differences and support their right to a safe environment.
- Read a food label and determine what a serving is considered.
- Determine whether the food is considered nutritionally healthy.
- Recognize which food group a desired food is classified under.

MODULE SKILLS
Students will be able to...
- Describe what foods can trigger certain allergic reactions.
- List different types of allergic reactions.
- Role play a possible food reaction scenario and how they would react in a crisis.
- Read and analyze food labels from different packages.
- Discuss which foods are considered healthy described by the food pyramid.
- Create a list of healthy snacks.

Knowledge of health and physical education concepts and skills empowers students to assume lifelong responsibility to develop physical, social, and emotional wellness.

ENDURING UNDERSTANDINGS
The social and emotional needs of a person must be developed before any other goals can be pursued and met. Respect and accept people, regardless of gender, sexual orientation, disability, ethnicity, socioeconomic background, religion, and/or culture. Stress management skills can impact an individual’s ability to deal with various types of emotional situations.

ESSENTIAL QUESTIONS
PRIMARY: What are some ways a person can develop socially and emotionally?
SECONDARY: Who are people you can talk to make sure your social/emotional needs are being met? In what ways are people in your family, your peer group, your community, etc. different from you? What are the stressors that are present in your life? What are stressors that may be present in other people’s lives? How do you deal with stressors in your life? Who can you turn to if you are having trouble dealing with issues that are causing stress in your life?

MODULE ASSESSMENT
Use a computer program to create a WEB portraying the individual student, the stressors in that student’s life, people who can help the student deal with his/her stressors, and strategies used to deal with those stressors.

LESSON OBJECTIVES
Students will be able to...

• Describe how personal assets and protective factors support healthy social/emotional development.
• List various people from your family, your school, and your community that you can talk with to help make sure your social/emotional needs are being met.
• List the ways people in your life are similar, and different than you.
• Identify common types of stressors, and highlight the stressors evident in your life.
• Brainstorm different strategies to deal with these stressors.
• List various people in your family, school, and community that can help you deal with the stress in your life.

MODULE SKILLS
Students will be able to...

• Write an essay describing how personal assets and protective factors are key components to healthy social/emotional development.
• Create scenarios where a family member, community member, or teacher creates an environment where a student can develop socially and emotionally.
• Chart differences in people based on: gender, sexual orientation, disability, ethnicity, socioeconomic background, religion, and/or culture.
• List common stressors, and ways to deal with them.
• Research on the internet ways to deal with and manage stress. (21st Century skill)
• Create scenarios where a family member, community member, or teacher helps a student deal with and manage a stressful situation.

8.1 Educational Technology

8.2 Technology Education, Engineering, Design, and Computational Thinking - Programming

As teaching, learning, and curriculum across New Jersey evolves to better meet student needs, when addressing Physical Education & Health topics, teachers are expected to integrate the adopted 8.1 Educational Technology, 8.2 Technology Education, Engineering, Design, and Computational Thinking - Programming, and 21st Century Skills into their classroom practice. To that end, teachers will be expected to apply the following anchor standards into their classroom practice as part of regular instruction:

- 8.1.8.D.1: Understand and model appropriate online behaviors related to cyber safety, cyber bullying, cyber security, and cyber ethics including appropriate use of social media.
- 8.1.8.D.5: Understand appropriate uses for social media and the negative consequences of misuse.
- 8.2.2.B.1: Identify how technology impacts or improves life.

Pacing Guide

The Comprehensive Health and Physical Education curriculum is taught over the school year, covering the content areas of Wellness, Integrated Skills, Drugs and Medicine, Human Relationships, Motor Skills and Fitness. The scope and sequence of the content covered is determined locally based upon the way the curriculum is delivered.

The following are suggested units that may be implemented, depending on district resources:

1. Basic Movement Skills/Concepts/Fine and Gross Motor Skills
2. Team Sports & Officiating
3. Individual Sports
4. Fitness and Physical Activity/Core Strength and Fitness Training
5. Project Adventure/Team Building/Problem Solving
6. Guided Discovery

Assessments

According to the Comprehensive Health & Physical Education standards, the objectives of health literacy include the following:

- Obtaining, interpreting, and understanding basic health information and services and using such information and services in ways that are health enhancing.
- Understanding preventive physical and mental health measures, including proper diet, nutrition, exercise, risk avoidance, and stress reduction.
- Using available information to make appropriate health-related decisions.
- Establishing and monitoring personal and family health goals.
- Understanding national and international public health and safety issues.

Assessments should be developed to monitor student progress related to these objectives throughout unit.

Teachers differentiate learning for high achieving students by providing a specialized setting in each district for students identified as eligible for Gifted and Talented services through a Screening/Identification Process.

During the development process, appropriate standards are referenced from the Common Core, and the National Association for Gifted Children's Gifted Program Standards Pre-K - Grade 12.

Based upon a student’s ability, the teacher can adjust instruction, content, and environment based upon a student’s interest, ability, and learning profile. Needs assessments should be used to modify and differentiate instruction and assessment for these students.

Special needs students receive a high quality specialized education to meet their individual social, emotional and educational needs. Within each individual school district there are programs designed to meet the needs of students in the “least restrictive environment”. These programs, from least restrictive to most restrictive, include; In-Class-Support, whereby a special education teacher or instructional aide is assigned to assist special education students in the general education classroom and Resource Room replacement, whereby students are pulled from their general education class for Math or Language Arts to a separate room for small group instruction with a special education teacher. All modifications are stated specifically in a student’s Individual Education Plan or IEP to ensure that each student consistently receives the appropriate level of support.

In addition to the programs within the mainstream and/or resource room setting, districts may utilize Regional Programs and Services to meet the needs of special education students with a variety of disabilities. Each school district must ensure that all students receive a high quality, consistent level of education and services. Additional services include occupational therapy, physical therapy, speech therapy, behavior consultation, social skills, and counseling (individual and/or group). These “related services” are provided by specialists certified in their respective fields.

For those students who are more... significantly impaired, and a program cannot be provided by their school district or Regional Programs, there are specialized Out-of-District Program’s, or “Private Schools”. For these few students programs are researched and suggested by the Child Study Team, CST, in conjunction with the parent(s), to ensure that individual student needs are being met. In most cases these students receive transportation to and from school, specialized equipment, if necessary and all related services as per their IEP at no cost to the parent(s).
